BOOKS BY ISLAMIC SCHOLAR

SHAYKH IMRAN N. HOSEIN

Imran Hosein's pioneering books in Islamic eschatology have provided vitally important information, knowledge and guidance to large numbers of people, both Muslim and non-Muslim, allowing them to 'connect the dots' and thus recognize and understand the reality of the modern age. The result has often been that many have been awakened from sleep, and many lives have changed. Among those books are his best-seller entitled Jerusalem in the Qur'ān, as well as An Islamic View of Gog and Magog in the Modern World, Sūrah al-Kahf and the Modern Age, The Gold Dinār and Silver Dirham – Islam and the Future of Money, etc.

These books are an excellent addition to every home's library.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Shaykh Imran N Hosein

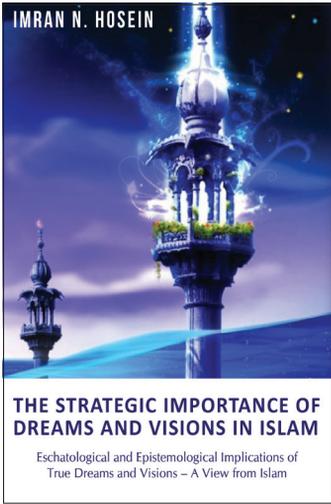

Imrān N. Hosein was born in the Caribbean island of Trinidad in 1942. He studied Islam briefly at Al Azhar University, Cairo, Egypt, during the academic year 1963-64, and then travelled to Pakistan to become the student of the Islamic scholar and Sufi Shaikh, Maulānā Dr. Muhammad Fazlur Rahmān Ansārī, at the Aleemiyah Institute of Islamic Studies in Karachi. The Institute was established in honour of Maulānā Muhammad ‘Abdul ‘Aleem Siddiqui, who was the Shaikh and Spiritual Master of Dr. Ansārī.

He also studied Philosophy at the University of Karachi, and International Relations at the Institute of International Relations of the University of the West Indies, and at the Graduate Institute of International Studies in Geneva, Switzerland.

He can, perhaps, be recognized as the pioneer of Islamic Eschatology in the modern age, with several of his books breaking new ground in Islamic thought as they explain the reality of the modern world—its politics, economy, monetary affairs, and the movement of history at the end of history. He warns, for example, that Pax Britannica and Pax Americana were meant to pave the way, brutally so, for a Pax Judaica in which the State of Israel would attempt to impose its rule over all of mankind. This, in turn, would permit the false Messiah to declare in Jerusalem that he is the Messiah.

He has already completed the first of five books he would like to write on the subject of Dajjāl the false Messiah.

This non-sectarian Islamic scholar recognizes the greatest gift which he has ever received in his scholarly life to be the methodology for study of the Qur’ān which he received from his teacher, Maulānā Dr. Ansārī, the distinguished Islamic scholar and Sufi Shaikh of the Qaderiyah Spiritual Order.

REF. NO. 1

The Strategic Importance of Dreams and Visions in Islam

Eschatological and Epistemological Implications of True Dreams and Visions
—A View from Islam (1997)

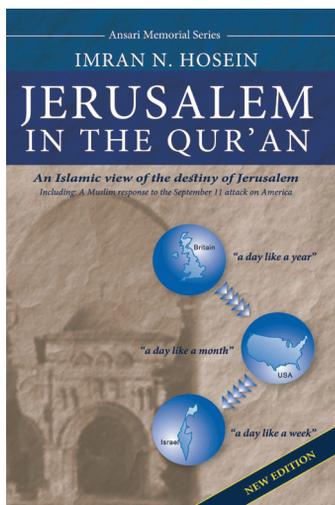

Revised edition, 2015
ISBN: 978-976-95683-1-0
No. of pages: 185
Price (GBP): 13.00

The Prophet (peace be upon him) declared that al-Nabuwwah (i.e., the institution of Prophethood) is comprised of 46 different parts and that after him nothing would remain in the world of Prophethood except for one part. He identified that last remaining part to be true and good dreams and visions. He also said that: “When the time (of the end of the world) draws close, the dreams of a believer will hardly fail to come true, and a dream of a believer is one of the forty-six parts of Prophethood.” (Sahīh, Bukhārī)

Despite this absolutely strategic importance of the subject of dreams and visions, it has mysteriously remained a forgotten branch of knowledge in Islam.

This book redirects attention to the subject of dreams and visions in the Qurʾān and Sunnah and argues that the phenomenon of a true dream or vision is proof that knowledge can come from a source that lies beyond the scope of the scientific method.

The book also discloses what the Prophet (peace be upon him) has explained concerning the different kinds of dreams that we can have, and, more importantly, how we should respond to them. Those who never dream, or whose dreams are of no importance, are a people who are either spiritually dormant or, worse, spiritually dead.

Jerusalem in the Qur'an

An Islamic View of the Destiny of Jerusalem

Revised edition, 2009

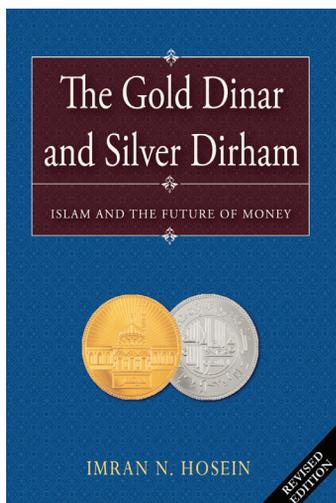

ISBN: 978-976-95683-8-9

No. of pages: 404

Price (GBP): 15.00

The Qur'ān invites mankind to inquire why the name 'Jerusalem' (Arabic 'Quds' or 'Bait al-Maqdis') does not appear in the Book—despite the fact that so many of the Prophets of Allah Most High had links with that Holy City—and in it is located the only House of Allah (apart from those built in Makkah and Madina), ever built by a Prophet of Allah. Not only is that House of Allah (Masjid al-Aqsā) mentioned in the Qur'ān, but so, also, is the miraculous night-time journey in which Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) was taken from Makkah to Jerusalem and to that House of Allah. The reason for this mysterious silence concerning name of the city is located in the Islamic view that Jerusalem is destined to play the central role in Ākhir al-Zamān (i.e., the Last Age). The divinely-placed veil over the city and of its destined role in the movement of history would not be lifted until the time came when Jerusalem would be ready to play its role in the end of History.

This best-selling pioneering book in Islamic eschatology explains Jerusalem's destiny to deliver a spectacular End-time validation of the claim of Jesus, the son of the Virgin Mary (peace be upon her) to be the true Messiah who was sent by the One God to the Israelite people. The Qur'ān confirms that claim, and this book explains the phenomenon of Dajjāl the false Messiah, who would precede the return of the true Messiah, and who would attempt to impersonate him while ruling the world from a bogus state of Israel.

The Gold Dinar and Silver Dirham

Islam and the Future of Money

Edition, 2007

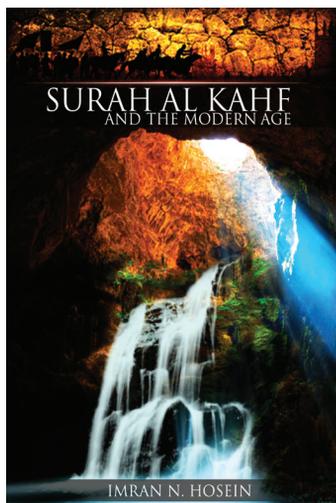

ISBN: 978-976-95683-4-1

No. of pages: 78

Price (GBP): 5.00

It is embarrassing that even at this late hour when enemies are about to weld into place the final iron gate of a financial Guantanamo, so many Muslims remain ignorant about the devilish nature of European-created money in the modern world. There seems to be little understanding of the role that a European-created monetary system has been playing in delivering to enemies of Islam the capacity to engage in massive legalised theft of the wealth of mankind. Nor is there realization that those enemies have designed a monetary system that would eventually deliver to them financial dictatorship over the whole world. They have already succeeded in enslaving millions of Muslims (as well as others amongst mankind) with slave wages and even destitution, while pursuing a sinister global agenda on behalf of the Euro-Jewish State of Israel.

This book uses the Qurʾān and Sunnah to explain what is ‘money’ in Islam, and identifies such money as the gold Dinār and Silver Dirham. In the process of doing so it exposes the money which we now use as bogus, fraudulent and Harām. Muslims must launch a do-or-die struggle to have the gold Dinār and Silver Dirham recognized as ‘legal tender’ (i.e., lawful for buying and selling). When this becomes possible, the masses of people would soon abandon the money which they now use, and which constantly loses value. The Qurʾān has prohibited whatever reduces people’s wealth, and hence money that is vulnerable to inflation is Harām.

Sūrah al-Kahf and the Modern Age

Edition, 2007

ISBN: 978-976-95683-2-7

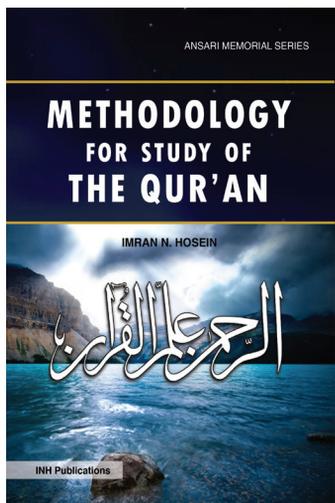

No. of pages: 282

Price (GBP): 15.00

An analytical study of Sūrah al-Kahf that seeks to explain the reality of a modern age in which power is used to wage an unjust war on Islam, and to oppress Muslims as well as Orthodox Christians, while pursuing a sinister global agenda on behalf of the Euro-Jewish State of Israel. This book directs attention to the neglected subject of ‘multi-dimensional time’ in Islam—neglected because of the current war being waged on the spiritual heart of Islam, i.e., Tasawwuf or al-Ihsān. The subject of Dajjāl cannot be penetrated without a grasp of ‘multi-dimensional time’

The Sūrah not only provides evidence that internal intuitive spiritual insight is a valid source of knowledge, but illustrates the importance of such insight for interpreting events in an End-time when ‘appearance’ and ‘reality’ would be opposite to each other. Sūrah al-Kahf and the Modern Age does more than simply introduce such major signs of the Last Day as Dajjāl the false Messiah, and Gog and Magog, rather, this book (as well as other books of this writer) describes the entire historical process from the time they emerged, up to the time of their final destruction.

Several chapters of the book are devoted to such crucially important subjects in the Sūrah as ‘the Young Men and the Cave’, ‘the Rich Man and the Poor Man’, ‘Khidr and Mūsa (peace be upon them)’ and the ‘Journeys of Dhūl Qarnain’.

Methodology for Study of the Qur'an

Edition, 2016

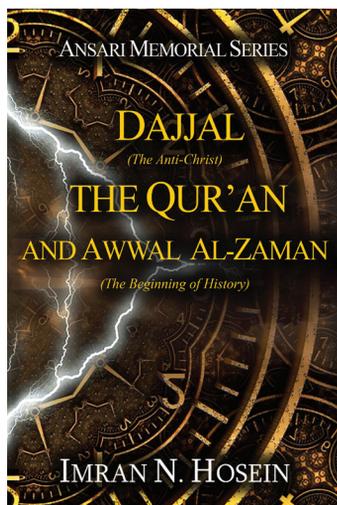

ISBN: 978-976-95837-1-9

No. of pages: 316

Price (GBP): 15.00

The Qur'an declares that Allah Most High 'taught' the book, and this necessarily must include the methodology through which the book is to be studied. The verses of the Qur'an are like the stars in the sky, they must be studied as a whole if they are to guide the pilot as he navigates the grand oceans of life. We live, today, in a strange and mysterious world which keeps on unfolding even more mysteriously day by day. The worlds of 'money', 'women', 'information', 'travel and communication', etc., have already been transformed beyond recognition, and more mysterious changes are on the way. Only the Qur'an explains the reality of the world today.

The lasting legacy of the outstanding scholar of Islam, Maulānā Dr. Muhammad Fazlur Rahmān Ansārī (r.a.) was his methodology for study of the Qur'an. Without that exceptional methodology it is impossible to locate so much that the Qur'an delivers which explains the world in the End-time. It is only after the student has studied what the Qur'an has plainly said concerning a subject of study, should he then turn to other sources of knowledge such as the Hadīth of Nabi Muhammad (peace be upon him), or to previous scriptures revealed prior to the Quran, or to knowledge which has come to the world for example, from modern western civilization. Since knowledge which has come from the Qur'an is absolute truth and is infallible, that knowledge must be used to sit in judgment over all other knowledge—regardless of source.

Dajjāl the Qurʾān and Awwal al-Zamān

Edition, 2017

ISBN:

No. of pages: 306

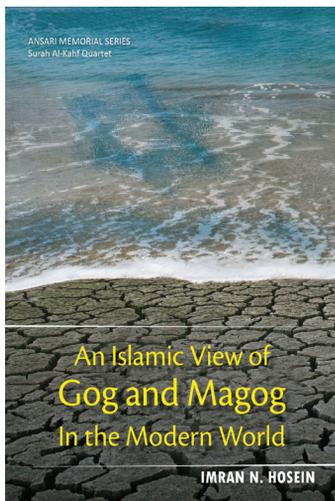

Price (GBP):

Our author had to wait for 10 years to write this pioneering book on Dajjāl, the false Messiah (Anti-Christ), because this subject presented the ultimate test of Islamic scholarship, as well as methodology for study of the Qurʾān and for assessment of Hadīth. The book provides a profile of Dajjāl from data which sometimes has to be literally understood, and sometimes interpreted. According to the author's unique interpretation of a verse of the Qurʾān, Dajjāl is a Jasad, i.e., an incomplete human being.

Since the Jews await a Messiah who would match Nabī Daūd as well as Nabī Sulaimān (peace be upon him) who was blessed with a measure of control over the weather, Dajjāl will have to demonstrate that he has a similar capacity.

The book demonstrates a link between the beginning and the end of history, and while examining the subject of the Rūh or Spirit at the beginning of history, the book exposes as false, the Jewish claim to be the chosen people of the Lord-God. It also describes and analyzes other events occurring at the beginning of history which have a direct link with Dajjāl's mission at the end of history to seek to replicate Solomon's Holy State of Israel.

The author plans to write four more books, Insha' Allah, on the subject of Dajjāl as follows: From Jesus the True Messiah to Dajjāl the False Messiah—a Journey in Islamic Eschatology, Dajjāl and Money, Dajjāl and the Feminist Revolution, and Dajjāl the Qurʾān and Ākhir al-Zamān.

An Islamic View of Gog and Magog in the Modern World

Revised edition, 2012

ISBN:

No. of pages: 248

Price (GBP): 15.00

Apart from such distinguished scholars as Dr. Muhammad Iqbāl and Maulānā Dr. Muhammad Fazlur Rahmān Ansārī, the overwhelming majority of Muslims, and their scholars, hold the view that Gog and Magog would be released into the world only after Jesus (peace be upon him) has returned, and has killed Dajjāl. They used a wrong methodology of holding on to a solitary Hadīth while disregarding the Qurʾān which has declared that Gog and Magog, who would spread out in all directions, would bring a people back to a ‘Town’ which Allah had destroyed, and from which He had expelled them, and whose return to that town He had also prohibited. Which ‘Town’ was it?

It is the modern West which spread out in all directions while totally dominating and controlling the entire world. The West possessed power that kept on continuously increasing and which no possible combination of rivals could challenge. They did much more than control the world. They kept on transforming it at will by breaking down all the barriers that have for ages preserved the wonderful diversity of human societies while separating peoples from each other. They globalized mankind in such wise that a single godless global society has now emerged for the first time in human history. It is the West which liberated the ‘Town’ of Jerusalem for the Jews, brought them back to the Holy Land after 2000 years of exile, created for them the bogus Holy State of Israel, etc. This book uses the Qurʾān to locate Gog and Magog within that modern West.

REF. NO. 8

Explaining Israel's Mysterious Imperial Agenda

Edition, 2011

ISBN:

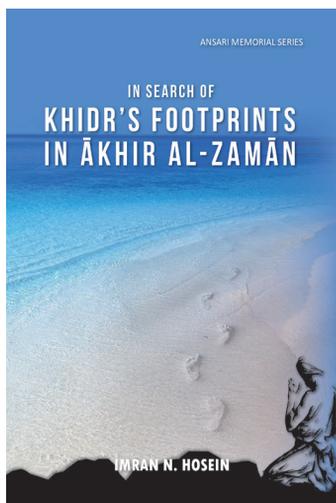

No. of pages:

Price (GBP): 8.00

This book explains three stages in a mysteriously unfolding master-plan through which the Jews seek to realize their messianic destiny of ruling the world from Jerusalem. The master-plan is culminating at this time when the Holy Land has been 'liberated' for the Jews, thanks to World War 1, the so-called 'chosen people' have been mysteriously brought back from 2000 years of exile to reclaim the Holy Land as their own, and a State of Israel has been restored in the Holy Land, thanks to World War 2. All that now remains is for a horrendous World War 3 to occur which would open a way for a bogus Oppressor State of Israel to replace an Oppressor USA as the ruling State in the world, and to then stake a claim to be a restored Holy Israel of the Prophets David and Solomon (peace be upon him).

The book locates the three stages of the master-plan, i.e., Pax Britannica, Pax Americana and Pax Judaica, in the three stages of Dajjal's life on earth (i.e., 'a day like a year', 'a day like a month', and 'a day like a week') prior to his emergence in human form in 'a day which would be like our day' (Sahih Muslim).

The three stages of this master-plan explain much of the history of international politics and economics over the last few centuries; hence Islamic eschatology accurately explains the strange world today, and correctly anticipates tomorrow's even more horrendously evil world.

In Search of Khidr's Footprints in Ākhir Al-Zamān

Edition, 2015

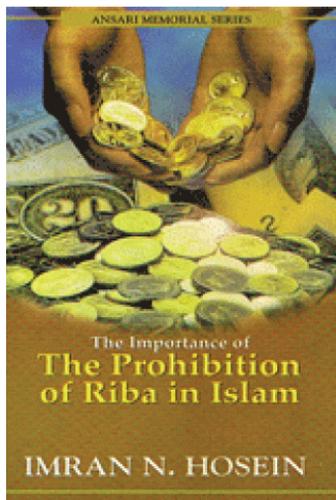

ISBN:

No. of pages: 42

Price (GBP): 3.00

There are those who will read this essay and weep over the fact that so many years of their lives have already passed while they still remain in search of a Khidr. They are those whose hearts have penetrated today's reality and who feel lost in an alien world of barren dust that is devoid of Nūr (or light). They perceive the world today to be like unto a banana-skin which has been tossed into a garbage-bin and is rotting. They long for a way out of a lonely tiresome barren life devoid of peace, contentment and true happiness. They long for raindrops from heaven that will quench the thirst in their restless hearts—a thirst for Truth and for inner peace.

This book is written to advise those who search for a Khidr that they may have to turn around, and retrace their steps in life, while searching for that rock on which sit the supreme scholars and guides of the world in Ākhir al-Zamān. They will find such scholars at Majma'ul Bahrain, i.e., the place where the two oceans meet. They are the ocean of knowledge which is externally acquired, and the ocean of knowledge which is internally received. The most learned is he who integrates these two oceans of knowledge into a harmonious whole.

These two books, on the supremely important subject of the prohibition of Ribā (i.e., usury), were written 25 years ago in the early 90's when the author was just beginning to understand Islamic eschatology. They are now being revised, and will both be combined and published under a new title of Dajjal and Money—An Islamic Eschatological Explanation of Ribā in both Banking, as well as the Monetary System.

One Jamaat One Ameer

The Organization of a Muslim
Community in the Age of Fitan

Edition, 1997

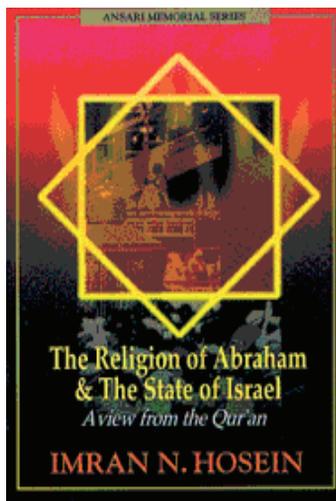

ISBN: 983-9541-22-6

No. of pages:

Price (GBP): 9.00

This is Ākhir al-Zamān in which, by Divine decree, no where on earth today can a Khilāfah State be restored in which Allah's sovereignty can be recognized, and where rule and governance can be based on Divinely-revealed Truth. In this respect, at least, Muslims have now returned to the pre-Hijri stage of their history, and while the goal is to return to Madīnah—From Makkah to Madīnah One More Time—they face a predicament. The very essence of the model of Madīnah is that they must be organized as a Jama'ah with an Ameer/Imam who must be obeyed as a religious obligation. But that single Jama'ah which embraces all Muslims does not yet exist, and all efforts to restore it have so far failed. What, then, should Muslims around the world do? That is the predicament!

This book attempts to address that subject and offer guidance with which Muslims can respond to that predicament.

The Religion of Abraham and the State of Israel

A View from the Qurʾān

Edition, 1997

ISBN: 983-9541-24-2

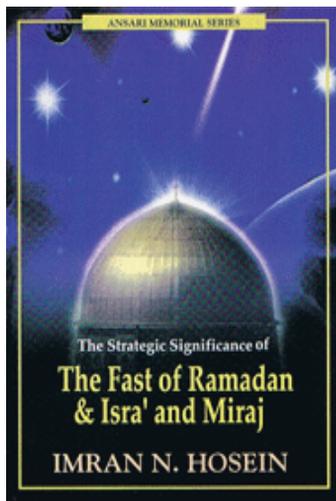

No. of pages:

Price (GBP): 9.00

Why would a godless secularized Europe be obsessed with the Holy Land and with a religious community of Jews? Why did they liberate the Holy Land for the Jews, bring them back by hook and by crook to that Holy Land, restore a State of Israel in that Land, and is now poised to deliver the coup de grace in which Israel will replace USA as the ruling State in a Pax Judaica that will replace Pax Americana? Why do the Jews want to rule the world? Why can the Jews not see that the modern secularized West is taking them for a ride – and that it will be their last ride ever? What explains their blindness?

This book explains the corruption of the revealed Divine guidance in the Torah which led the Jews to believe that they are an exclusive creation, the chosen people of the Lord-God, who were born superior to all the rest of mankind. That is false, and Truth will challenge and replace that falsehood when Jesus (peace be upon him) the true Messiah returns and the Jews reach the end of their misguided road with the destruction of an Oppressor State of Israel.

This book helps Muslims to gain an understanding of the subject that is derived from the Qurʾān.

The Strategic Importance of Isrā and Mirāj

Edition, 1997

ISBN:

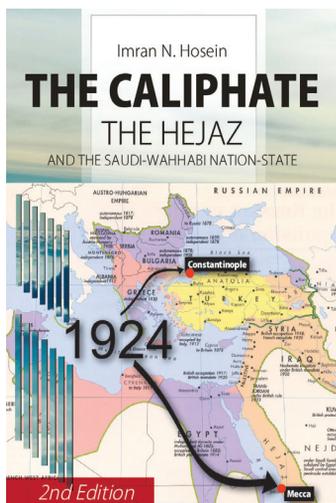

No. of pages:

Price (GBP): 9.00

It was at precisely that moment in time when his mission of proclaiming the Truth to an arrogant pagan Arab people had reached its darkest hour, and his very life was in danger, and there appeared no possibility of success for that mission, that Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) was taken on a miraculous journey through time, and through the parallel universes, to show him all that was to eventually occur in history up to the end of history.

It was from this journey, i.e., the Isrā and Mirāj, that we received much information concerning events that were to take place in Ākhir al-Zamān, and in particular that it was the destiny of Jerusalem to deliver spectacular validation of Truth that is located in the Qur'an and was explained by Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him).

This book explains that strategic importance of the Isrā and Mirāj while reminding the believers, in besieged Gaza and in the Holy Land in particular, that they must never despair - regardless of how dark the world may become—for light will surely replace that darkness.

The Caliphate the Hejaz and the Saudi-Wahhabi Nation-State

Revised edition, 2013
ISBN: 978-976-95683-3-4
No. of pages: 207
Price (GBP): 13.00

This revised edition of the book entitled ‘The Caliphate the Hejaz and the Saudi-Wahhabi Nation-State’ includes an eschatological analysis of the subject of the Caliphate that was missing in the first edition. We now know because of Islamic eschatology that the Islamic Caliphate will be restored with the advent of Imām al-Mahdi and the return of Jesus (a.s.). But we also know that it is not possible for it to be restored so long as the Gog and Magog world-order persists.

Even though the Khilāfah State (i.e., Caliphate) established by Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) lasted for only 20-25 years after his death, what replaced it still maintained the basic structure of that sacred model of a State. It still enforced, for example, Allah’s Law as the highest law.

This book recounts the events which led in 1924 to the final demise of that sacred model of a State and its replacement by a secular godless model that was created by godless modern western civilization. Mustafa Kamal’s secular Republic of Turkey led the way for others to follow, in a momentous transformation of the model of Madīnah to be replaced by Dajjāl’s modern secular State.

Fasting and Power

The Strategic Importance of the Fast of Ramadān

Edition, 2011

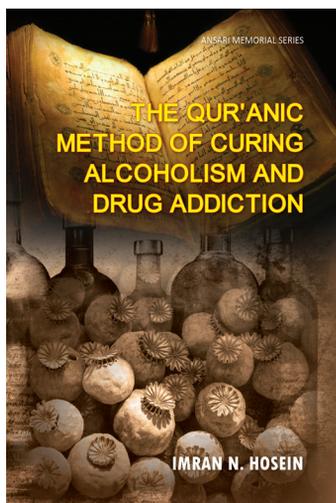

ISBN: 978-976-95683-7-2

No. of pages: 99

Price (GBP): 10.00

Fasting not only builds, but also, reinforces and consolidates values, which in turn form an indispensable foundation of power. No civilization can ever rise to greatness without establishing and sustaining the moral health of its people; hence fasting plays a role of crucial importance in nation-building and in establishing an enduring society and civilization. In fact survival, in the historical process, depends upon moral health.

A Muslim cannot restore external freedom unless he is internally free. Only that Muslim is internally free who lives for Allah. Everything he does, he seeks to please Allah Most High; it matters not whether the world is pleased or displeased with him. Only such a Muslim is free who breaks the shackles of slavery! Fasting is one of the most effective institutions for realizing that freedom. Most Muslims alive today in the modern world of Dajjāl, have become slaves of this modern world, i.e., al-Dunyah. When they abstain from food, drink, and sexual relations during the hours of fasting they develop an eventual detachment for the Dunyah. They then develop such attachment in the heart for Allah Most High that they fast for Him, and live for Him. Consequently they eventually become capable of dying for Him. Whoever is prepared to die for Allah has acquired power which can never be defeated or destroyed, and that is the strategic importance of fasting in Islam.

The Quranic Method of Curing Alcoholism and Drug Addiction

Revised edition, 2000

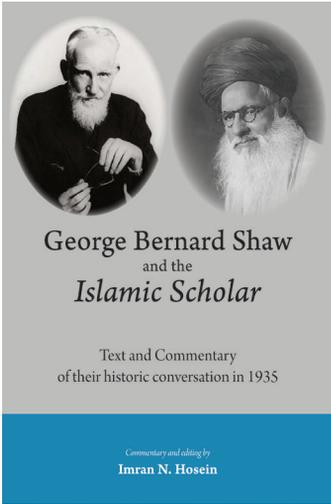

ISBN: 978-976-95683-9-6

No. of pages: 77

Price (GBP): 5.00

Only one religious community in the entire history of mankind, i.e., the community of Muslims who follow Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him), was prohibited from consuming wine and other such intoxicating beverages. The reason for this is probably located in the role that wine would play in Ākhir al-Zamān as a deadly weapon in Dajjāl's dangerous hands. It is Dajjāl who delivered travel by air, and hence airports - and it is he who ensured that travellers would be welcomed, and bid farewell, at every airport, with endless shops selling duty-free alcohol. The inevitable consequence was that alcohol addiction would become a universal plague at that time. It was, perhaps, for this reason, that one community amongst mankind, was reserved to function as both a role model for addicts, as well as a religious clinic which could cure the addict at no cost.

This book explains that Quranic method of curing alcoholism and drug addiction through a stage-by-stage process. In the process of curing the addict, Truth in the religion of those who follow Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) would display credentials that would dazzle mankind.

George Bernard Shaw and the Islamic Scholar

Edition, 2000

ISBN: 978-976-95683-6-5

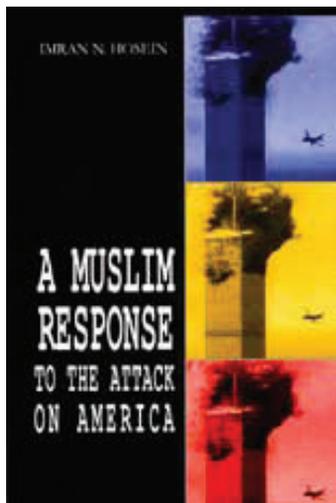

No. of pages:

Price (GBP): 3.00

Shaw, the literary genius, rationalist and intellectual, was a perfect representative of the new essentially godless European world-order that had cloaked itself in the mantle of 'humanism'. Maulānā, on the other hand, through his spiritual magnetism, his intellectual brilliance and integrity, and his winsome personality, was an equally perfect representative of religion's sacred model of society. These two worlds representing the sacred and the secular models of society were locked in a universal rivalry which would dominate the Last Age and would eventually culminate in the triumph of one model and the destruction of the other. It was yet possible, however, for their two representatives to meet with each other in conditions of mutual respect, and to conduct their discussions in a civil and courteous way.

George Bernard Shaw paused for a few days in 1935 in Mombasa as he sailed for South Africa, and met with Maulānā 'Abdul Aleem Siddiqui. Their conversation was also recorded, and it is on that text that this commentary is based.

Readers might well ask why is such Islamic scholarship as displayed by the learned and fearless Maulānā no longer emerging from the Dār al-'Ulūm and other institutions of higher Islamic learning in Ākhir al-Zamān?

A Muslim Response to the 9/11 Attack on America

Edition, 2002

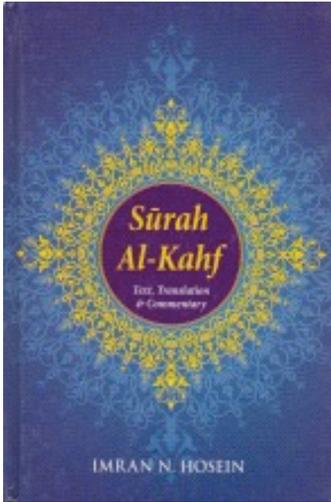

ISBN:

No. of pages:

Price (GBP): 1.00

There is a parallel between the 9/11 act of terrorism and a previous one that occurred in the summer of 1914, since both of them had well-guarded secrets. Leon Trotzky for example, was sitting in a restaurant just across the road when the Arch-Duke, Franz Ferdinand, was assassinated in an act of terrorism which triggered the 1st world war. That war delivered the Holy Land to the Jews, and this 9/11 act of terrorism has been used these last 17 years to justify endless wars which are still continuing, and which seem certain to soon provoke the Great War that would facilitate the passage from Pax Americana to Pax Judaica.

This courageously-written booklet, which was published in less than 3 months of 9/11, has raised the flag of Truth while blazing a trail of scholarly defiance of those who use monstrous lies to advance their satanic agenda. The Muslim response to the 'attack on America', an attack which has been cynically exploited to savagely attack Islam and Muslims while hiding behind the curtain of 'terrorism', is to rededicate themselves to upholding and defending truth while remaining faithful to Allah Most High, and to his Messenger, regardless of the price we may have to pay for doing so!

Sūrah al-Kahf: Text and Commentary

Revised edition, 2011

ISBN:

No. of pages: 273

Price (GBP): 15.00

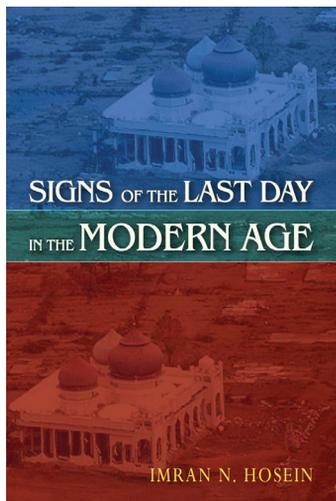

The miraculous Arabic text of the Qurʾān cannot be translated to any language, hence we offer in this book an explanatory translation of all the verses of the Sūrah, as well as our eschatological commentary.

How should the poor respond to those who unjustly amass wealth and then use that wealth to impose their messianic rule over the world from Jerusalem? Sūrah al-Kahf responded with the morale-boosting parable of the rich man and the poor man. The story of the young men of the Cave, from which the Sūrah takes its title, illustrates, according to Muhammad Asad, “the principle of world-abandonment for the sake of faith.” But the story also functions as a moral-booster since it ends with the triumph of Islam (i.e., in the decision to build a Masjid to commemorate the miraculous event).

No one can possibly study Islamic eschatology without devoting a considerable effort to studying this Sūrah of the Qurʾān.

The book has been formatted to facilitate such study with blank space and sometimes blank pages provided after many verses for serious students to record their notes.

The book is also published with a hard cover out of respect for the text of the Qurʾān located inside.

Signs of the Last Day in the Modern Age

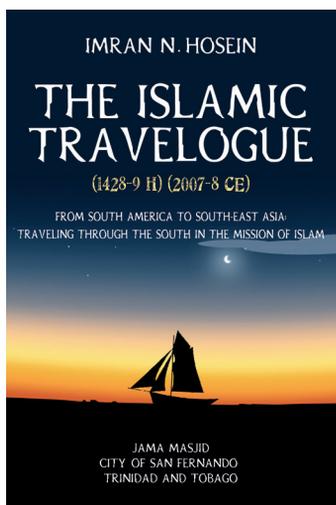

Edition, 2007

ISBN:

No. of pages: 349

Price (GBP): 15.00

We live in a world in which many Signs of the Last Day as prophesied by Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) are continuously and ominously unfolding. He prophesied, for example, that ‘women would be dressed and would yet be naked’. The essays in this book are the fruit of a very humble attempt at interpreting contemporary events and issues perceived to be connected to this subject with the hope that they might assist readers to recognize the reality of events on which we have commented and in the process, also recognize ‘Truth’ in Islam. They would read these essays and be pleasantly surprised by an articulation of Islam’s viewpoint so different from today’s anti-Islam propaganda. They would be startled to learn, for example, of prophecies of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) concerning the Last Age about which they never previously knew. Many might not have known that he prophesied an end of history that would witness the return of the true Messiah, Jesus the son of the Virgin Mary (a.s.), and that a Muslim army coming out of territory in and around Afghanistan would at that time successfully liberate all occupied territory until it finally liberates Jerusalem.

The Islamic Travelogue

Travelling through the South
in the Mission of Islam

Edition, 2011

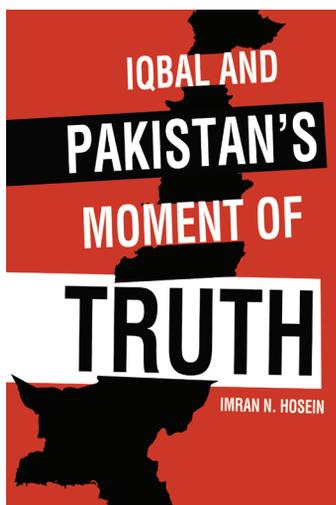

ISBN:

No. of pages: 285

Price (GBP): 15.00

The book invites readers to join an Islamic scholar as he travels on Islamic lecture-tours in the South. It promises to be a very interesting experience.

“I landed in Caracas on a Friday morning, and on the drive from the airport to the city I got my first taste of Venezuelan political education. Again and again, as I studied Latin American politics, I found much confusion in the minds of some who followed the religious path ... Hugo Chavez was a just leader who had the courage to denounce American economic oppression and the relentless exploitation of the non-European world ... We spent quite some time in serious discussions while driving around Soweto. I found him the Imām to be learned, intelligent, articulate, and aware of issues facing Muslims today and I felt that the Muslims of Soweto had made a good choice of a leader ... My first stop was beautiful Cape Town, a city which I had visited on several previous occasions. Although I lived as a student in Geneva, Switzerland, from 1974 to 1979, and although Switzerland was surely blessed by Allah Most High with extraordinary natural beauty, I still considered Cape Town to be the most beautiful city I had ever seen ... We reported the loss of my Passport and wallet to the Customer Service desk at the Kuala Lumpur shopping mall and then went to the Ampang Police Station to make a report. I began making plans to call the Trinidad and Tobago High Commission in New Delhi next day to get a new Passport ... then a call came late at night from the shopping mall. They had found my Passport.”

Iqbal and Pakistan's Moment of Truth

Edition, 2011

ISBN:

No. of pages: 85

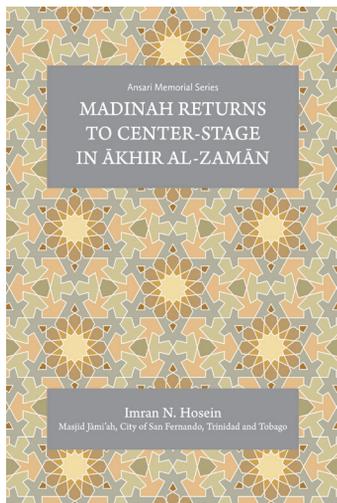

Price (GBP): 5.00

It is indeed a moment of truth for Pakistan when this essay asks, as it does, whether the modern republican State as envisaged by Dr. Muhammad Iqbal, and as established by Mustafa Kamal in Turkey, can ever be a substitute for the Khilāfah State (i.e., Islamic Caliphate) created by the blessed Prophet (peace be upon him)? Iqbal said: Yes! This essay says: No!

Indeed, today's republican State has allowed enemies to rule over Muslims by proxy. When they had the freedom to choose their own rulers, the violation of the person of a single Muslim woman would have roused the whole world of Islam to wage war to uphold the honor of women. But at a time when Pakistan's political and military rulers are anointed by the West, a Pakistani Dr. Aafia Siddiqui could be subjected to barbaric violation of her body and freedom for years, and the clients of Israel who control power in Pakistan, do absolutely nothing in response, other than to seek, shamelessly so, to cover-up the extent of the crime.

It is time enough for the Pakistani people to choose their leaders themselves, and to hold them to account when they betray the people and sell their freedom for US dollars and Saudi Rials.

Pakistanis need to be reminded that history will end with the triumph of truth, and with an unstoppable army of believers emerging from a region of which northern Pakistan forms a part, which will liberate everything in its way until it liberates the Holy Land.

Madīnah returns to Center-stage in Ākhir al- Zamān

Edition, 2012

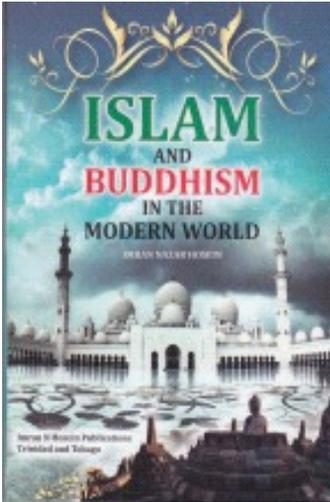

ISBN: 978-976-95683-5-8

No. of pages: 32

Price (GBP): 3.00

We are now located at that moment in history when Jerusalem is flourishing while Madīnah is in a state of forlorn desolation; hence it is clear that the world now stands on the brink of a great war which will provoke the subsequent prophesied Muslim conquest of Constantinople and liberate the city from NATO's venomous Zionist embrace. Only after that liberation of Constantinople would Dajjāl appear himself in human form.

It would be at precisely that moment in time that Madīnah would return to centre-stage in the world since the angels would prevent Dajjāl from entering the city, while the city would itself cast away all hypocrites who betray the Truth in Islam. Those who rule over the American Kingdom of Saudi Arabia are precisely such hypocrites.

Islam and Buddhism in the Modern World (1972)

It is quite possible that Hinduism, in one or more of its many strains, emerged in history as authentic religion founded on revealed truth. It must certainly have been monotheistic. Over a period of time that monotheistic truth was corrupted with polytheism and with the popular embrace of idolatry. The corruption of truth led, in turn, to the corruption of values. Buddhism is essentially a revolt against that corruption of values.

Buddha arose to set the perspective aright. It was because of this background that he confined his teachings to ethics and refused to discuss metaphysics. The revolt against Hinduism is enshrined in the movement of the religious consciousness to a free and dynamic 'self-dependence' in Buddhism.

Buddha, like Muhammad and Jesus (a.s.), set the individual free. Anyone can attain salvation. Salvation is not restricted to the priestly caste of Brahmins.

The basic defect of Buddhist ethics is that it lacks metaphysics. It ignores man's emotional nature, his religious consciousness. Man, in his moral struggle, craves for a source of unfailing hope and comfort. This can only be provided with the concept of a compassionate, loving, forgiving God who is full of grace, and with a system of rewards and punishments balanced in favour of good. Islam provides both. Buddhism provided neither and has paid the penalty of being turned upside down by unassuming Buddhists who today worship even idols and statues of Buddha!

The Qur'an the Great War and the West

Edition, 2018

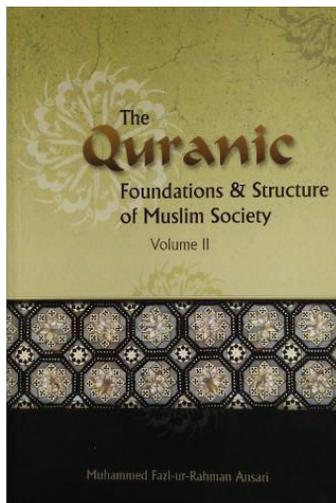

ISBN: 978-976-95837-2-6

No. of pages:

Price (GBP): 5

Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) prophesied that a Great War would occur in which 99% of all combatants will be killed. The war will be fought because of a mountain of gold which would emerge from beneath the River Euphrates. There has never been such a war in all of human history. What is very strange about this war is that it will be fought even though all those who fight would do so with the knowledge that very few would survive the war. This is clear from the prophecy of the blessed Prophet that each of the combatants would say we would be the ones who would survive. It should not be difficult for readers to recognize that such a war would have to be fought using weapons of mass destruction, such as nuclear and thermo-nuclear never before used in warfare. The Great War that is now coming would be precisely such a war. Since that war is now so close that it can occur at any time, it is fair for our readers to ask, why has the mountain of gold not as yet emerged from under the River?

The book breaks new ground in explaining from Sūrah al-Rahmān of the Qur'an that the Great War would result in such destruction of the modern West that it would subsequently play no role in history.

The Quranic Foundations and Structure of Muslim Society

By Maulana Dr. Muhammad Fazlur Rahman Ansari. 2 Vols. (1973)

Revised edition, 2011

ISBN:

No. of pages:

Price (GBP): 30.00

We now live in Ākhir al-Zamān when Divinely-ordained tests and trials have unfolded in the world to separate those who long to be faithful to the Truth which located in the divinely-revealed scriptures, from those whose loyalties lie elsewhere. It is already clear that most of mankind are failing those tests and trials, and that the believers who would remain faithful to that Truth would have to reconstruct Muslim society themselves in small communities disconnected from an already godless world.

Around the world today, and in particular in the towns and cities, society is in a state of collapse, and the masses grow constantly poorer. A new slavery is descending on mankind.

But there will always be those who will not surrender to a godless oppressor, and whose capacity to resist godlessness and oppression constantly inspires them to reconstruct Islamic society and civilization.

While Volume 1 of this book presents the Quranic response to war on Islam, and argues the rational credentials of Truth in Islam, it is Volume 2 in particular, of this 2-volume masterpiece, which presents the divine guidance that is located in the Qurʾān for pursuing such reconstruction of Muslim society. It does so in such a systematic way that it makes that effort easier to pursue.

This absolutely indispensable book must be studied with great care by those who long for the triumph of truth and justice in today's godless world of relentless oppression.

Dajjal and Money

The Prohibition of Ribā in the Qurʾān and Sunnah

It is not possible for anyone to explain universal poverty and destitution in much of the world today without recognizing Ribā as the cause; and it is not possible to explain universal Ribā in the world today without identifying Dajjāl as the master-mind of that Ribā. Even though the Prophet (peace be upon him) cursed the one who takes (i.e., consumes) Ribā, the one who gives (i.e., pays) Ribā, the one who records the transaction, and the two witnesses thereof, and declared that they are all equally guilty, yet most of the world of Islam is now sunk in Ribā up to its throat.

This book, entitled Dajjāl and Money: the Prohibition of Riba in the Qurʾan and Sunnah is a revised edition of The Prohibition of Ribā in the Qurʾān and Sunnah, as well as The Importance of the Prohibition of Ribā in Islam which were written 25 years ago during the period 1993-96.

We have taken the booklet on the Importance of the Prohibition of Ribā in Islam, and used it—after editing it—as the opening chapter of this book.

From Jesus the True Messiah to Dajjāl the False Messiah

A Journey in Islamic Eschatology

In view of the well-known mission which Dajjāl seeks to accomplish of successfully impersonating the true Messiah, and hence of ruling the world from Jerusalem, our methodology for the study of the subject also includes an analysis of relevant historical events which have already occurred. Among them are the liberation of the Holy Land for the Jews in 1917, after more than one thousand years of Muslim rule, the subsequent return of the Jews, by hook and by crook, to reside in the Holy Land more than a thousand years after they had been expelled from that land by divine decree and banned from returning to reclaim it as their own. Among such events is the restoration in the Holy Land of a State of Israel more than a thousand years after Israel had been destroyed by divine decree, and the continuous increase in the strength, influence and power of that modern State of Israel in world affairs.

Our method of analysis is to continuously seek to establish, through a process of logical deduction, the link between Dajjāl the Anti-Christ, and such mysteriously unfolding events.

This book explains the advent of a Messiah, and of his mission, identifies him in the person of Jesus, describes his miraculous birth from the Virgin Mary (a.s.), and his miraculous speaking from the cradle, as well as an adult, explains the event of what appeared as his crucifixion, his ascension, and his End-time return to rule the world from Jerusalem. The book also describes and explains Dajjāl's mission of impersonation of the true Messiah.
